Global Software Announces Acquisition by Harris Computer Systems

Acquisition Strengthens Growth and Expands Technology Offerings in Public Safety Market

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., January 16, 2009 – Global Software Corporation, a provider of public safety software solutions, has been acquired by Harris Computer Systems (“Harris”), a leading provider of software solutions for local governments, utilities and school districts.

Harris CEO Jeff Bender stated, “We are very pleased to add Global Software to the Harris family of solutions and have been interested in the public safety market for some time. Global provides Harris with yet another avenue for growth and expansion. We will build on Global's strong, well established customer base and leverage their flagship product line enhanced for today's technology requirements.”

Global President Phil Sisk said, “We are very excited to announce this acquisition by Harris. Global now has access to the resources to expand our product offering and customer base. Their expertise in software, specifically the government market, will help us to achieve our full potential. This alliance with Harris gives us confidence that our customers, employees, and business partners will continue to succeed for the long-term. I am extremely pleased to be staying on with Harris and continuing in my role to lead Global.”

“We welcome the Global employees and customers to Harris and look forward to working with them to continue the Global and Harris track record of success,” said Craig Ross, Harris General Manager. “We continue to add best in class solutions to our portfolio and this is no exception. We are extremely impressed with the employee group, customer base and solutions.”

As a result of the acquisition, Global Software Corporation and its software products are now part of the Harris portfolio of solutions. Global will operate as a business unit of Harris and will continue to sell, develop, enhance, support and service all solutions from their current offices in Oklahoma City, OK.
